

INTI  Lácteos

April 22, 2008

Dear
Young W. Park, Ph. D.
Prof. of Food Science
Agricultural Research Station
Fort Valley State University

On behalf of the Argentinean National Institute of Industrial Technology (INTI) I'm delighted to invite you to present your research work on milk products and human nutrition at two conferences to be held in the cities of Cordoba and Buenos Aires (Argentina) on May 9 and May 14, 2008, respectively. The details of the invited lectures are as follow:

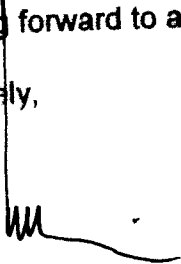

Conference: Mercoláctea - San Francisco, Córdoba (Argentina)
Date: 05/09/2008
Subject: Benefits of Goat Milk and Its Products in Human Nutrition and Well Being (45' oral presentation)

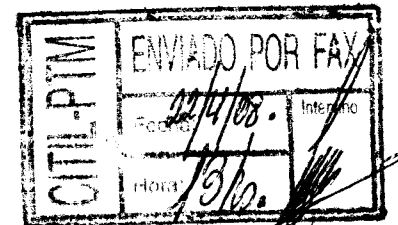

Conference: Seminar of Fine Milks - Buenos Aires (Argentina)
Date: 05/14/2008
Presentation # 1: Factors affecting composition and quality of goat and buffalo milk (60' oral presentation)
Presentation # 2: Methods of determining quality and milk pricing (60' oral presentation).

As an expert in the subject of your presentations, your participation is of utmost importance to the success of our conferences.

Looking forward to a positive response to this invitation I remain.

Sincerely,

Lic Roberto Castañeda
INTI LACTEOS Director
castaned@inti.gov.ar
Buenos Aires - Argentina
54-11-47544068

Instituto Nacional de Tecnología Industrial

Centro de Investigaciones Tecnológicas
de la Industria Láctea

Sede Central
Avenida General Paz 5445
Casilla de Correo 157